

Tonga Lighting Distribution Box Specifications and Models

AI Overview

The Tonga XRM Lighting Distribution Box is designed for AC 50/60Hz systems up to 400V, with load currents up to 100A, providing power distribution, control, and protection for industrial, commercial, and residential applications.

Key Technical Specifications

- System Compatibility: Suitable for AC 50Hz, 380/220V three-phase four-wire systems and single-phase three-wire or three-phase five-wire systems with AC 50/60Hz.
- Rated Voltage: Up to 400V.
- Load Current: Maximum 100A.
- Frequency: 50/60Hz.
- Protection Features: Provides overload, short-circuit, and leakage protection for connected circuits.
- Control and Monitoring: Equipped with measuring instruments, control switches, buttons, and signal indicators on the enclosure surface for operational efficiency and safety.
- Enclosure: Fully enclosed structure, enhancing operator safety and environmental protection.
- Applications: Ideal for industrial and mining enterprises, production workshops, building distribution, hotels, residential buildings, high-rise buildings, stations, hospitals, schools, and government offices.
- Installation and Environmental Conditions
 - Altitude: Not exceeding 1000m.
 - Ambient Temperature: Maximum +40°C, minimum -25°C.
 - Relative Humidity: Daily average $\leq 95\%$, monthly average $\leq 90\%$.
 - Installation Requirements: Tilt not exceeding 3 degrees, avoid frequent severe vibration or impact, and ensure surrounding air is free of explosive, corrosive, or flammable gases.

Functional Overview

The Tonga Lighting Distribution Box is a lightweight secondary distribution device that controls motors, electrical equipment, and lighting. It integrates modular terminal electrical appliances for flexible configuration and is suitable for both single-phase and three-phase circuits. Its design ensures efficient power distribution, operational monitoring, and safety compliance in diverse environments. This distribution box is widely used in...
